SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Special mention should be made of the good sportsmanship and skiing ability of Byron Johnson, son of Mr and Mrs. Martin Johnson of Kingvale who was Truckee high school's only representative at the invitational ski tournament held at Cisco on Saturday. Johnson came in second in the jumping event, bringing recognition of the fact that Truckee was represented at the meet and the following day when the Truckee school was host at a meet here Johnson again carried the honors for the boys of the local school alone

Truckee's second service club—the Rotary—was organized here this week and has pledged itself to the betterment of the community. Its program is a worthy one and we join in extending heartiest best wishes for its success.

The Truckee Chamber of Commerce has again show its faith in its past leader, C. B. White, by naming him for the eighth time to head the local civic organization. Mr. White has demonstrated his faith in the future of Truckee many times and we believe the choice for the presidency of the local chamber was a wise one.

Anyone noticing the clean condition of the pricnipal street this week may be led to believe that the powers that be have at last awakened to the much needed improvement—but they would be entirely wrong. As a matter of fact the cleanliness is the result of a display of civic pride urged by Miss Catherin Rosserini who has made a personal appeal to the store keepers to clean their sidewalks and gutters each morning. It took only a suggestion and a couple of examples to start the ball rolling and now with the demonstration through it is likely that the program will be maintained—we certainly hope so.

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Filipcic to Jack J. Jenkins of Sacramento was announced at a party given last Saturday evening by Mr and Mrs. Anton Filipcic, parents of the bride elect.

While the wedding date has not been divulged, it will probably be in the early fall.

Fifty friends and relatives of the young couple received bids to the affair and the betrothal was revealed during the refreshment hour when the guests found the names of Miss Filipcic and Jenkins on the cards at each table place.

The spring theme was carried out with sweet peas predominating and pink and blue being used in the room and table decorations.

Cards and Chinese checkers provided the entertainment for the evening. Mrs. A. Roquette held high contract bridge score and Mrs. Laurence Zoebel was low. Miss Marion Lothrop was first in the game of Chinese checkers and William Englehart, Sr. was low.

Two Are Fined For Fishing On Truckee River

Need For Warden Here Is Exemplified With Arrests

MANY TRACKS FOUND

Local Men Pay $25 Each In Justice Court For Angling

Concrete evidence that Truckee's protests for a full-time game warden in this region are not without a substantial reason was evidenced here last weekend when two local nimrods, Robert I. Moore and Erwin Waters, were apprehended fishing on the Truckee river.

Taken before Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith they were fined $25 each with a warning that a more severe penalty could be expected if the act was repeated.

The two men were arrested near the Placer county line south of here by Game Warden William LaMarr of Nevada City, a member of the so-called flying squadron. Neither had fish in their possession but they entered pleas of guilty to angling for trout in a closed season.

LaMarr declared that he had seen numerous tracks in the snow on other streams in the vicinity, indicating there have been many others fishing out of season.

A SURVEY OF CONFIDENCE——

Capital markets remain stagnant and little money is available for the development of new enterprises because the majority of American investors are uncertain and fearful of the future. This is the net result of a recent poll in which 3,000 investors from all sections of the country were questioned. Excessive taxation and ill-advised legislation of a pun itive inature are largely responsible for the existing fear and uncertainty, according to the poll.

All of which serves to confirm two significant facts: Economy in government, not more taxes, is the only sound solution to the deficit problem; second, experimental or radical legislation in tended to benefit the "little fellow" but which in reality cripples the profitable operation of those industries which provide his job and his livelihood, is no benefit to anyone.

Any brand of "liberalism" which destroys confidence, jobs and opprotunities while simultaneously leading the country further into bankruptcy, is bound to cause fear and stagnation of activity.

AN HISTORIAN LOOKS AT DICTATORS——

"Napoleon, with more political and military genius in his little finger than the 'sawdust Caesars' of today have in their whole bodies, lasted about twenty years. When the first cracks appeared in the edifice of despotism which Napoleon had raised, the people from Spain to Russia rose to demolish the edifice and send its architect to die in exile on the barren island ofB St. Helena. Drunk with power that breeds ambition for more power, he had dared to challenge the historic process of the emergence of political, religious and economic liberty. For all his great gifts, he failed. And are we to believe that his feeble imitators,fighting with the noble weapons of purges, persecutions, confiscations, concentration camps and castor oil, will succeed where he failed? Histrionics against the majestic march of history!"—Davis S. Muzzey.

ARE YOUR CHILDREN SAFE——

"School authorities too often feel that because they've never had a fire, they're never going to have one," writes T. Alfred Fleming of the National Board of Fire Insurance Underwriters, in the Kiwanis Magazine. "This cruel fallacy is a menace to the lives of American school children, for actually there are five school fires a day in this country. We cannot, unfortuately eliminate them all. But we can, by efficient fire drills, get our children out of burning buildings safely."

Most fire drills, Mr. Fleming observes, "are wretchedly inadequate; some actually dangerous." He describes one school in which, when the fire bell rang, downstairs pupils rushed upstairs to get their hats and coats from the cloakroom. A principal once proudly showed him a tubular-shoot escape in his modern school. The chute had locked doors at the bottom—and when the janitor was found after a twenty-minute search, he admitted that he had lost the keys a year before! In another school, the children had to stand on a windowsill and swing out three feet to reach the fire escape—and then drop 12 feet from it to the ground! And it is a quite general practise to leave crippled children in their seats during fire drills.

Mr. Fleming wishes to "convert every school official and parent to the Texas system." In that state, the study of fire hazards is included in all school curricula, and two fire drills a month are held in all schools undr the direction of student committees. Various drill officers are appointed from the older pupils, and are charged with such specific duties as helping crippled children to escape, seeing that rooms are empty before doors are closed, checking on cloakroom and lavatories to see that they are vacant, and leading lines of children to safety. Here the Lone Star State has set an example that should be immediately followed by all other states.

America has had enough of ghastly school fire disatsers.

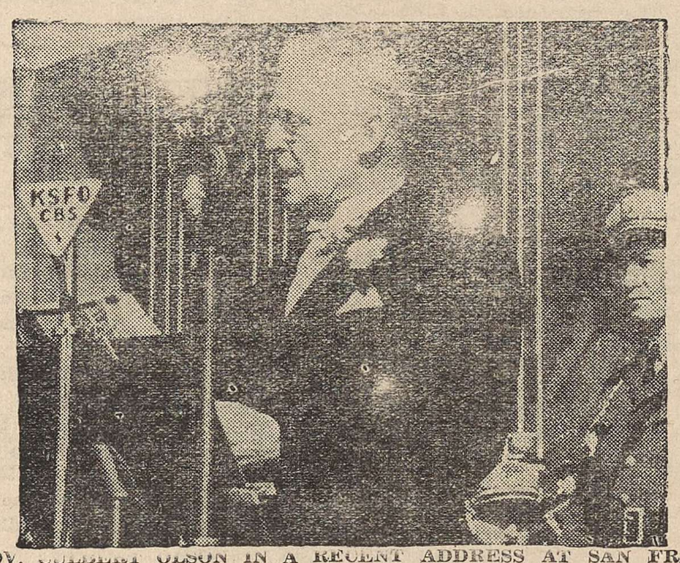
Commentator Depicts DAY WITH OLSON



GOV. CULBERT OLSON IN A RECENT ADDRESS AT SAN FRANCISCO BAY'S TREASURE ISLAND.

(By David L. Foutz)

It is no easy task being Governor of California. No one, unless they have actual daily cotnact with the office, can even surmise the activity that goes on in the "corner office." I thought many readers might be interested to know just what does go on during a atypical day, so will devote this space to that topic.

9 A. M. The office staff consisting of the Executive Secretary, Assistant Executive Secretary and Private Secretary to the Governor: Receptionist 10 members of the secretarial staff 9 clerks and a telephone operator are at their desks.

In the reception room are from 10 to 20 people waiting to see the Governor or one of his secretaries. The clerks are busy handling the first of the morning mail which consists of an average of 500 letters and 90 telegrams daily. (Mailmen report the incoming mail is almost three times heavier than during past administrations.) This mail is sorted and sent to the Governor or to the proper Secretary as the case might be.

10 A. M. The Governor arrives and meets his first appointments.

10:30 A. M. The morning press conference is held. During the legislative session sixteen representatives meet with the Governor. This conference lasts for thirty minutes.

11 A. M. Other appointments are kept when possible. Many times those with 11 o'clock appointments must return later in the day because Senators and Assemblymen call upon the Governor to discuss important legislative matters.

12 Noon. The Governor receives callers during the lunch hour remaining in the office until 1 P. M.

During the forenoon, Richard C. Olson, son and private secretary to the Governor, has received many callers who could not see the Governor because of his overcrowded schedule. The other two official secretaries are kept equally busy with interviews and performance of their prescribed duties. The number of people visited by the Governor and his staff members averages 225 per day. This does not take in the members of the legislature and department heads.

1 P. M. This hour is a duplicate of the morning hour with the office humming with activity.

2 P. M. The Governor returns to his office and continues with his conferences.

3 P. M. The press again gather in the Governor's office for the afternoon conference. This conference, as a rule, lasts for forty-five minutes as the Governor is questioned at length on legislative events that occured during the day.

4 P. M. Department heads call upon the Governor for conferences.

5 P. M. The Governor sees the last of his appointments, Senators and Assemblymen. He leaves the office at 5:20 P. M.

Many of the secretarial staff return to the office in the evening to finish the days work and often remain until 11 P. M.

The Governor holds meetings at the Mansion nightly and on Wednesday night has his regular council meeting with all State Department heads, the Lieutneant Governor and Speaker of the Assembly present.

Another inside on the Governor's office is the tlephone operator's activity. I am informed that on the six outside trunk lines and 15 inter-office lines, the operator in the Governor's office handles an average of 1500 calls a day, of which over 100 are incoming long distance calls for the Governor or Secretaries.

Being Governor of California is no easy task, and it is physically and humanly impossible for him to see every person that calls, although he would like to if time would permit.

We would feel cheap about giving away free, some of the weak printing jobs sold by mail order printers as first class work.

1000 Cars Go Thru Auburn To Snow

Nearly three-fourths of the snow sports visitors to the Donner Summit Recreation Area came from the San Francisco Bay Region and Sacramento County, according to a recent random check of Sunday morning's snow sports traffic by District Ranger J. R. Hodgson of the Tahoe National Forest. Hodgson checked 190 cars betwen the Summit and the Blue Canyon Airport and by checking license numbers with the Department o f Motor Vehicles, found that 40 per cent of them came from the Bay Area; 27 per cent from Sacramento County; 8 per cent from Placer County, 3 per cent from Nevada County and the remainder were scattered over seventeen counties of the State. Hodgson states that this represented about 14 per cent of the use for that particular day, which would indicate a total of 1400 cars visiting the area. It was estimated that approximately half of the visitors travelled through Sacramento County and over half through Auburn and the cities between Sacramento and Auburn on their way to the snow playfields.

MRS. WATSON DOING GOOD JOB DESPITE UNUSUAL VOCATION

TAHOE CITY, March 23.— Among unusual vocations for women is that of Mrs. Stella Watson, capable driver of the big GMC district school bus at Tahoe City, which conveys the school children of both the high and elementary schools from Pomins on the south end to Tahoe City, and from the state line near Brockway to Tahoe City in all kinds of weather and on all kinds of roads. while the schools are in session from March until December.

Last year when school attendance was at its maximum during the summer, 42 children in one day were carried by the bus.

Mrs. Watson has driven for 20 years without an accident and has said "My idea o safe driving is to keep my eyes on the highway at all times." Even men who have driven over the road marvel at this efficient driving and mothers who are familiar wih local conditions feel safe with children in her care.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 23.— (UP)— Horses and dogs may be two of man's best friends but they will arouse a lot of legislative animosity—at least while the argumen lasts—in connection with racing tax bills.

The noble art of improving the breeding of horses via the race track seems to be flourshing in California particularly at Santa Anita and the Hollywood Park in Inglewood, giving rise to several measures designed to increase the state's share of the take.

Gov. Culbert L. Olson whote into his budget message a little item of raising the state license fee for race tracks from the present flat rate of 4 percent of the money waggered to t graduated percentage, rang ing from 4 per cent to 7 per cent. He estimates this will return some two million additional dollars to the general fund, on top of the estimatea $6,000,000 from the present statutes.

The horse racing boost seems to be one of the revenue raising measures with the best chance to pass, although considerable opposition has been heard.

But the real howl will go up when the dog racing bill goes on the floor. No one seemed to think much about it until the senate committee on social welfare gave favorable recommendation to a bill by Senator A. L. Pierovich, D., Jackson, which would legalize and regulate dog racing.

The bill would permit pari-mutuel betting, with the state to get five to nine per cent of the take, depending on the total amounts of the bets. The California greyhound racing board would set up to administer the act.

A feature of the Pierovich bill is the dividing of the counties into three classes; first class, with a million population and over; second class from 600,000 to a million and third under 600,000. Racing up to 72 days is the maximum and only two weeks in the smaller areas.

The dog racing subject is a perennial one and has never earned a place in the record books. The senate action on the Pierovich bill closely follows action of Attorney General Earl Warren in seeking to close existing tracks.

It is not believed the governor will take a very friendly view toward dog racing and the bill is assured a stormy path when it goes into debate.

Members of the legislature and newspaper corps occasionally let down their hair and forget the dignity of lawmaking, as evidence by the hilarious gridiron dinner for the governor and the St. Patrick's day program that set a new high in fun.

The stag gridiron affair was strictly off the record—fortunately for all concerned—but it is ample to mention that the capitol newshawks presented a skit, Clown Hall Tonight which removed about the last vintage of reputation the lawmakers ever had. The governor enjoyed the show immensely and took advantage of the situation to hand out of a few well chosen cracks at his friends of the fourth estate.

Irishmen had a field day when St Patrick's day rolled around. First off a committee chosen to invite the governor to the assembly chamber consisted of Assemblmen Ben Rosenthal and Albert Wollenberg and Clerk Jack Carl Greenburg. Assemblymen Thomas Maloney was chairman and had a committee of Meehan, Burns Millington, Desmond, Oday, Gallagher O'Donnell, Kilpatrick, Cassidy and Gilmore.

All the programs, legislative documents, roll call pads and other supplies appeared in green for the day and so much horseplay was evident that little serious work went over the desk.

ACME GIVES CREDIT FOR SALES BOOST TO ADVERTISING

Newspaper advertising is credited with playing a vital part in building the tremendous sales leadership of Acme Beer, according to an announcement made this week by Karl F. Shuster, president of Acme Breweries of San Francisco and Los Angeles, one of the West's most popular and outsanding business executives.

"During 1938 Californians drank over 3 and a third million gallons more of Acme Beer than they did of the next most popular brand, according to the official figures of the State Board of Equalization," Shuster pointed out. "In fact, each year since Repeal Acme Beer has enjoyed an ever-increasing margin of leadership throughout the West. And we attribute the great popularity of Acme not only to the quality of the product itself, but also to the power of consistent newspaper advertising in calling a quality product to the attention of countless millions of people."

Shuster adds that Acme Breweries has yearly devoted a major portion of its advertising appropriation to newspapers because of the consistent results obtained; and that the Spring of 1939 will mark the largest and most continuous newspaper advertising campaign ever conducted for Acme Beer.

SMITH URGED TO AID IN FIGHT TO KEEP SOUTHERN JUSTICES

Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith has received a communication from John L. Webber, justice of the peace of Malibou township in Los Angeles asking the local official to take steps to prevent passage of one senate and two asesmbly bills which would abolish the offices of Los Angeles county justices of the peace.

The measures, the writer declared may have far reaching influence and would probably eventually lead to the abolution of all ustice courts in the state.

The measures are similar to one defeated in the last session.

CALIFORNIA LEADS NEW YORK IN CAR REGISTERATION IN 1938

California again leads its closest rival, New York, in total registrations of vehicles for the year 1938. The New York figures were just received by Registrar Howard E. Deems at Sacramento revealing that California exceeded its rival with a total of 30,138 vehicles of all types registered during the past twelve months. California's total was 2,698,997 vehicles.

The Golden State further covered itself with glory by maintaining its low average cost per vehicle of $7.10 as compared with the New York average cost per vehicle of $16.50. Only seven states have a lower average cost of registration for automobiles, trucks rtailers and busses. These states are Georgia, Nebraska, South Carolina, Utah, Wyoming, Nevada and Massachusetts. Only one of these states has a total registration in excess of 1,000,000 vehicles. Figures compiled by Registrar Deems for the average fee per vehicle were arrived at by dividing the total number of vehicles into the total fees collected to accomplish the registration of all types of vehicles during 1938.

California registration collections amounted to $22,332,421 for the past year including the "in lieu" tax fees which were approximately the same amount for the calendar year as the registration fees collected.

BOAT RACES ARE ATTRACTING WIDE NATIONAL NOTICE

According to A. E. Goddard, chairman, steamboat race committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce, plans now under way for the first national steamboat race, to be held April 22 on the Hudson, the Ohio, the Mississippi, the Sacramento and the San Joaquin rivers simultaneously, point to a larger and more successful race than had been anticipated.

While it is still too early to expect definite entries, a great deal of interest is being manifested throughout the east and middle west and widespread publicity is being given to the forthcoming race.

Herbert M. Lehman, governor of the state of New York, has replied to the challenge by referring it to the president of the New York World Fair corporation. Governor Homer A. Holt of West Virginia has placed the challenge in the hands of the Honorable H. A. Stansbury, managing director of the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce. Mayor Loehr of Yonkers, New York, has announced that he will name a committee and join with other communities in promoting the race along the Hudson.

Playing with Powell Crixton, Jr., of New York, the Tahoe star eliminated the highly favored team of Gene Sarazen and Frank Strafaci, one up on the 18th hole of their round in the fifth annual national amateur- professional tournament.

At the State Capitol

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN, THURMAN

(by Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman)

The first bill affecting the Sixth Assembly District was approved by the conservation committee last week and will, no doubt, come up for a vote on the floor some time this week The bill, A. B. 739, is sponsored by your assemblyman and would repeal the present law which requires owners of pine timberland to pay a two cents per acre tax for fire prevention. The bill has the support of the State Board of Forestry.

Another of the writer's bills which was ordered "do pass" by the committee on civil service with a unanimous vote is A. B. 2003 which will give physically disabled persons an opprotunity to take civil service examinations for positions for which they could qualify. It would allow, for example, a person who is hard of hearing and who desired to take an examination for a position which his physical condition would not interfere with, the right to have a short hand reporter assist them at the examination. I beleve that the bill will pass when it comes up for a vote on the floor this week. The physically handicapped have enough handicaps without any additional ones which would interfere with their securing employment which they could do. Appearing before the committee in behalf of the bill was Fred Tuttle, Jr., Auburn attorney and brother of Justice Raglan Tuttle of the district court of appeals

Last week we mentioned the fact that the $4,000,000 additional relief appropriation might come before the lower house during the week. However the bill did not reach the floor last week but no doubt will be sent to the floor this week by the committee on social welfare. This committee held two lengthy hearings last week and considerable opposition to the appropriation developed. One assemblyman in the committee made the charge that relief administration salary rolls had been increased by 50 per cent during a year's period in which relief rolls mounted only 20 per cent This includes a month of the new administraion in which salary charges have increased 33 per cent.

The relief situation was thoroughly aired in the committee hearings and when the bill comes before the assembly it will probably be given additional discussion. There are many assemblymen who are not satisfied as yet with the way relief is being administered. They feel that too much money is being spent for the administration of relief. They desire to keep the cost administration down and spend relief money for those for whom it is intended and not to increase salaries of those in charge of the work.

No radical labor bills have as yet come up for a hearing before the laobr and capital committee of the assembly. In this connection we received a fine letter from a Roseville man who said, "I am a union labor man but I am absolutely opposed to all radical labor legislation."

A bill in which all sportsmen should be interested, A. B. 758, was given a "Do pass" by the fish and game committee of the lower house last week. This bill authorizes licensing of persons controlling shooting rights on 120 acres or more to operate shooting preserves for shooting game birds. It would allow ranchers to open their acreage if they so desired for hunting purposes, charging the hunters a fee for the privilege of using their ground The state farm bureau which supported the trespass law, favors this bill. Senator Jerry Seawell of Roseville is co-author of a companion bill in he senate.

An Invitation

..This is an invititation to the teachers and the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of the schools of the Sixth Assembly District to visit the assembly chambers during the present session. If you are interested please write me as to what day you would like to attend. This invitation is also extended to high school teachers and their classes.

A Few Sidelights

The veteran members of the assembly always have a little fun at the expense of the new members. When a freshman legislator's first bill comes up for a vote on the floor the veterans all press the red button, which flashes a no vote on the electric voting board. If a new legislator is not wise to this procedure he usually gets red in the face. Before the vote is totalled, however, all those who voted no on the bill change their votes to yes . The gag, however, wears off after a few of the freshmen are properly given the works.

The Sixth Assembly District, besides having one assemblyman and four state senators. has three assemblymen at large, two of whom formerly served either either the present district or a part of it. In addition another assemblyman was born in the district . These three legislators are Senator Jesse Mayo, our predecessor, who served the district for three terms; George A. Clark, who now represents Madera and Merced counties, several years ago was a resident of Inyo County and represented Inyo Mono, Tuollumne and Mariposa in the assembly, and James H. Phillips of the 18th District, who was born in Sonora. These legislators all have an interest in the district and have been most helpful to the writer.

..(ED'S NOTE: 'Scoop', in haste forgot Assemblyman Chet Gannon of Sacramento was born in Truckee. We were slighted, Scoop!).. ....
